Besu threat

KOLKATA, Oct. 12: Joining forces with their teachers, if for once, students of Bengal Engineering and Science University demanded the institute be granted the status of an Indian Institute of Engineering Science and Technology by 30 October. Failing which, they threatened, the students would launch an intensive stir.

A students' convention was held at the Besu institute hall today. "The higher education minister will meet the teachers on 16 October. In case the government does not agree to the IEST status, campus unrest will prevail," Avigyan Bera, a students' union member, said. n SNS
